This diagram highlights a variety of possible (but not exhaustive) long-term or system level outcomes which programs may aspire to meet with their efforts. This diagram can be used to help think about potential outcomes to track, or to help identify ultimate program outcomes in the development of a theory of change or logic model.